DAY PACKAGES: RELIGIOUS HERITAGE 2016

Religious Nincheri, Profane Nincheri

Walk in the footsteps of Guido Nincheri, a fresco painter and stained glass artist of religious themes during this full day tour. His exceptional work can still be admired in more than two hundred buildings across Canada and the United States, where he is seen as the master of sacred art, the Michelangelo of Montreal.

In the morning, visit the Nincheri-Dufresne Museum, including the Château Dufresne, a hotel built in the early 20th century, and the Nincheri Studio, which houses the former workshop of the artist.

For lunch, situated in the hip neighborhood known as HOMA, Valois Restaurant welcomes you to enjoy its Art Deco interior and stained glass windows.

In the afternoon, to help understand Nincheri's religious and artistic legacy, visit impressive churches, including Nativity-de-la-Sainte-Vierge d'Hochelaga and Notre-Dame-de-la-Défense.

Duration: 7 hours, 30 minutes

Price: Starting at $ 95 per person

Unsung Gems

The author Mark Twain charmingly nicknamed Montreal "the city of a hundred bell-towers", given the large number of churches found there. Over the course of a day, discover some hidden treasures of the city's heritage.

In the morning, visit the Saint-Léon de Westmount Church, the first church for francophones in Westmount and a masterpiece of Guido Nincheri, who designed the stained glass, decorations and ornaments.

Next, visit the Maison Saint-Gabriel. This museum and Historic Site is an architectural masterpiece of the French Regime and allows you to discover the life of the first colonists in the time of Marguerite Bourgeoys and Les Filles du Roy, or the King's Daughters. You will be greeted by animators dressed in period costumes for a guided tour of the premises and be served a meal in the Refectory Restaurant. An experience not to be missed!

In the afternoon, visit the Notre-Dame-de-Bon-Secours Chapel, also known as the "Sailors' Chapel", one of the many legacies of Marguerite Bourgeoys.

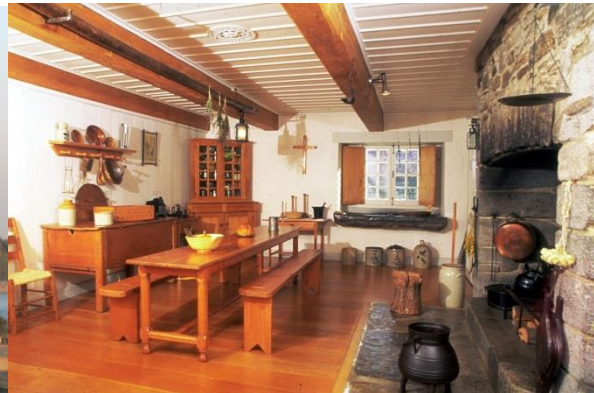

To conclude the day, you will visit the Gesù Church, both a place of worship and a center of artistic creativity.

Duration: 7 hours, 30 minutes

Price: Starting at $ 70 per person
